VOICE OF THE KNIGHTS

Volume 60

Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, Saturday, Oct. 1, 1966

Number 3

1966 Colloquia Begins

The 1966 Fall Honors Program is now getting under way.

First colloquium for freshmen will be Oct. 12 and 13 at the home of Dr. Phillip Kildahl, chairman of the English Department and head of the Honors Program. Their topic for those nights will be the book "The Two Cultures" by C. P. Snow.

Participating faculty at this discussion will be Dr. David Hampton, Chemistry Department; K. D. Briner, English Department; Samuel Michaelson, English Department; and Dr. Kildahl. The hours for this meeting are from 7-9 p.m.

Sophomore Colloquium

First colloquium for sophomores will be Wednesday, Oct. 19, from 7-9 p.m., also at the home of Dr. Kildahl. The topic that night will be "Ecumenism." Leaders of this discussion will be the Rev. Waldemar Gies, Dr. Marshall Johnson and Dr. Robert Dell, all of the Religion Department.

First junior colloquium is scheduled for Oct. 20, from 8-10 p.m. at the home of Dr. Kildahl. This discussion will be handled entirely by the students. Jim Krueger, Elaine Handeland and Rhonda Swenson will head this program. The topic for this evening is "Language: its historical development and relevance to abstract thought."

Double Program Scheduled

A double program for honor sophomores and juniors is scheduled for Nov. 11-13. The groups will travel to Minneapolis, Minn., to attend concerts given by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

On Friday of that weekend they will attend a concert at Northrup Auditorium featuring the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and Roberta Peters, Metropolitan Opera star.

18 'Americans' Will Appear In October 10 Pops Concert

The Young Americans, a group of 18 young performers, will present the Wartburg College Fall Pops Concert, Monday, Oct. 10, at 8 p.m. in the Neumann Auditorium.

This versatile singing group has appeared on television with Andy Williams, Bing Crosby and Meredith Wilson, and has toured the country with Johnny Mathis and Perry Como.

75 On Campus For Workshop On Yearbook

Seventy-five college and high school students and their advisers were on campus today to participate in the first Yearbook Workshop here, sponsored by the American Yearbook Company of Hannibal, Mo.

The Wartburg College "Fortress" co-sponsored the conference.

Expert advice was given to students and their advisers on such topics as planning the content and organization of a yearbook, layout, photography, finance, copy writing, copyfitting, staff organization, the use of color and adviser's problems.

Dave Ramberg, general manager of the American Yearbook Company, and Loren (Buck) Whitver, representative to northeast Iowa, were speakers.

That Saturday they will see two plays at the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre. Sunday afternoon they will attend a concert at Northrup Auditorium, featuring Director Arthur Fiedler.

Sophomores and juniors will have colloquia Nov. 16-17 to discuss the plays that they will have seen at the Guthrie Theatre.

On Oct. 5 a kickoff dinner will be held in the Castle Room for all members of the Honors Program.

James Lenguadaro of the Admissions Office will be the main speaker. Susan Radig, junior, and Dennis Harms, sophomore, will speak for the students. Music will be furnished by Kathrine and Kathlene Kriesel, seniors.

Homecoming Promises Special Events, Features

By JEANNE CARROLL

In order to create more interest and to involve more people, Wartburg Homecoming 1966 will see several changes from past years. There will be added events and more time between scheduled events to encourage and enable alumni attendance.

Remaining secret are the plans for Thursday morning's mystery convocation, scheduled to officially launch Homecoming activities. Word has leaked out that the faculty will be involved in some way.

Major change will be the Queen's coronation Thursday evening instead of Friday evening as in recent years. From that night on, the Queen will reign over all activities.

"Wooden Shoe Stomp"

Following coronation will be the "Dike de Dutchmen," or "Wooden Shoe Stomp," to the fairgrounds, where favorite games and contests will take place, including the traditional egg - throwing and "yell - like - hell" contests.

Friday afternoon the Outfly grounds will host a mass exodus of Wartburg picnickers. According to Homecoming General Secretary Leah Nelson, "It will be much like last Friday night's picnic."

Kastle Kapers Friday

Friday evening Kastle Kapers will present "Brave New Wartburg" at 7 and again at 9 with the Queen's reception in Centennial Lounge between performances. Later Friday night the freshman class will be responsible for building the traditional "bigger-than-ever" bonfire.

To insure adequate space for the fire, freshmen are to bring all kindling and other wood to the baseball diamond east of the dry run.

Faculty Goes To Meetings

Conventions drew several of the Wartburg faculty members this weekend. Two meetings took four members of the English Department to Cornell College at Mount Vernon, and seven other members of the faculty to St. Olaf College at Northfield, Minn.

Attending the Iowa College Teachers of English conference at Mount Vernon are Miss Erna Moehl, Mrs. Margaret Lindberg, Mrs. Eleanor Wheaton and K. D. Briner, all of the English Department.

At the Association of Lutheran College Faculties meeting at St. Olaf are Dr. Mahlon Hellerich, dean of faculty; Dr. James Fritschel and Dr. Maynard Anderson of the Music Department; Dr. Robert Dell and Dr. Karl Schmidt of the Religion Department; Dr. David Hampton of the Chemistry Department; and Norman Nelson of the Biology Department.

A continental breakfast will be served at midnight following the bonfire. This unique idea was originated for two important reasons. Students will be hungry; and it's different (hopefully, the food will be, too).

Saturday's events commence with the parade in the morning. Decorations in all housing units will also be judged at this time. Students must vacate the dormitories by 9 a.m. At 2 p.m. the Wartburg Knights will challenge the Central Bears in the Homecoming football contest.

Smorgasbord Saturday

Another new event and a highlight is scheduled for Saturday evening. A smorgasbord will be served in the cafeteria. Theme for the meal is "Camelot." During the dinner the band, under the direction of Dr. Robert E. Lee, Music Department, will present a concert of numbers from the musical comedy "Camelot."

Climaxing Saturday's activities will be the dance "Camelot" in Knights Gymnasium.

Pastor Keller To Speak

Homecoming will continue Sunday morning when the Rev. John Keller of Park Ridge, Ill., will speak during worship. All housing units are open to the public Sunday afternoon. Climaxing Homecoming festivities Sunday evening, Victor Borge will be featured as the first number on the 1966-67 Artist Series.

Choice Of Chairmen Given

Chairmen are still pleading for committee workers.

Students are asked to contact the chairman of their choice from the following list: Marlene Stroh, pep convo; Cathy Cornelius, Queen and reception; Wayne Garms, pep march; Greg Heist, special contest sub-chairman; Ruth Tillmanns, picnic and breakfast; Dianne Schalkhauser and Jack Eden, Kastle Kapers; Leon Walker, bonfire; Sherry Pine, Den; Denny Daniels, parade.

Jan Stengel, bands; Rhoda Reinking, barbecue; Judy Gannon, smorgasbord; Norman Stubbendick and Sandy Witthuhn, dance; Sue Siepmann, tickets; Jim Beckman, novelties; Katie Maahs, "Trumpet" publicity; Carol Anderson, general publicity; Richard Medlar, campus decorations; Andrea Luckow, open house and alumni; and Rich Sundquist, radio publicity.

Linda Krager and John Prigge rehearse for the Kastle Kapers production "Brave New Wartburg" to be presented at Homecoming.

They are an organization of young people of college age from the greater Los Angeles area who are dedicated to touring the world for the purpose of promoting understanding through music.

According to advance publicity, they are eager to meet those of their own age in other countries, to sing with them, to exchange ideas with them, and to help them understand America.

NBC officials invited the group to sing on a patriotic Fourth of July show over KNBC, Los Angeles, called "Happy Birthday U.S.A." Bing Crosby then invited them to appear with him on one of his TV specials.

'Buddenbrooks' Is Fall Movie

"Buddenbrooks," a movie based on the novel by German author Thomas Mann, will be this fall's English Film Series selection.

The movie is scheduled in two parts. The first part will be shown on Tuesday, Oct. 4, and the second part on Tuesday, Nov. 1. Both film showings will be in Neumann Auditorium.

"Buddenbrooks" is also recommended for students studying the German language, according to Dr. Phillip Kildahl, chairman of the English Department. Actors will speak in German, but there will be English subtitles.

The Young American Singers will appear at the Wartburg College Pops Concert on Monday, Oct. 10.

Editorial

Trumpet Policies Aired

Editorial policy of the Trumpet has been to express popular campus opinion in the form of an editorial or letter to the editor. Controversy has been encouraged.

It is the duty of the newspaper editor to avoid private injury, but it is also the duty of the newspaper to inform its readers; not only to give them current facts, but current opinion.

Currently there are many problems in the Wartburg community, both major and minor. Shoplifting is a problem local merchants face. Should the college maintain its ties with the American Lutheran Church? Is Outfly to be called through spontaneous demand by the students or is Outfly to be called by this school's administration?

Letters To The Editor

Den Not For Studying

Dear Editor,
After reading Mr. Johnson's letter in last week's Trumpet, I feel that further consideration should be given to this matter.

The idea of redecorating the Den was put into vote by the whole student body last year. And the reason why we are, today, enjoying a better place to have our Coke, coffee, etc., is because the majority of the student body had voted in favor of it.

Can't Satisfy Everybody
Of course, there are always some students who have different tastes. But can we satisfy everybody?

I must agree that the lights in the Den are not fit for studying. But, yet, who studies in the Den? The Den is the place where friends meet friends.

It is a place where we relax after hours of classes. The Den is no place to study. I suggest that if Mr. Johnson wants to study, the best place is the library.

Hours Should Be Changed

I agree with Mr. Johnson that the hours of the Den should be changed. There are a number of students who would like to have a cup of coffee before their nine-o'clock classes.

Besides this, I, myself, find it hard, as some of the other students do, to study in the daytime. I usually study at night. Thus, I tend to get up late. I am sure that I am not the only one who misses breakfast almost every day.

I am also confident that the Den will be opened earlier than these past few weeks as soon as they get the schedule of the workers there all set up.

Move Over, Abby

By DICK McCABE

For those who really give a whatchacallit, this article shall no longer be referred to as a column, but rather as a gadfly paper.

Checking through my collection of college keepjunk, I found some letters between my baseball cards and a Kinsey report. I have decided to print them, with the names changed to protect me.

Dear Muff,

Will you please tell me from what barber's college did the barber I went to receive his degree?

N. W.

Dear N. W.,

Actually, the place is a front. When you go in, they wrap you in a white sheet so that when you find out they're just running Japanese pipes you can't get out as quick; and if you don't feel like smoking a concoction of aged Peruvian tobacco and shredded prunes, they can scalp you without getting hair on their display counter. As for their education, I'm not sure, but I do know they're working in conjunction with the Rohlf Memorial Clinic as blood-letters.

Muff

Dear Muff,

Are you really Wartburg's "Angry young man"?

J. B.

Dear J. B.,

Yes, I just bit open a canker sore.

Muff

Dear Muff,

I have a problem. I'm smoking too much. My hair has turned kinky, I had a wisdom tooth that suffocated, and the walls in my room have nicotine stains. But I don't want to quit. What should I do?

L. M.

Dear L. M.,

- 1) Panic or sob loudly.
- 2) Dig a trench around your dorm.
- 3) Stay away from North Hall, Old Main and Dr. Ottersberg.
- 4) Save up 28,614 more coupons and send in for an iron lung.

Muff

Dear Muff,

Is it true there has been a UFO hovering about campus at night watching us with distrust?

G. H.

Dear G. H.,

No, it's an EFO.

Muff

Dear Muff,

I'm interested in taking swimming next year during summer school. Could you tell me what's involved?

J. L.

Dear J. L.,

Certainly. There are three classes. Beginning swimmers spend two hours a day, Monday through Friday, running through a sprinkler on the gym parking lot. Intermediate swimmers spend the same amount of time dunking their heads in the fishpond, and the advanced class spends all summer looking around the state for enough clean water to wade in.

Muff

Dear Muff,

Your humor really bugs me. I can't stand your illogical unfounded slams at everything. Not only haven't I found one funny article, but I take much of what you say as a personal insult. So quit writing it.

T. S.

Dear T. S.,

So quit reading it.

Love,
Muff

their exciting style of showmanship and broad range of musical appeal, offer a truly fascinating experience of professional entertainment -- and we hope the student body, realizing the unavoid-

Pops Concert Chairman

Reason Given For Change

Dear Editor:

The Pops Concert Series has established a tradition of outstanding entertainment -- and a valid question has now been raised as to whether the Young Americans will present a concert worthy of that fine tradition in their Fall Pops Concert here Monday, Oct. 10.

Why were the Young Americans selected? The basic and simple fact is that for the price Wartburg College could afford to pay and the dates suitable for a concert, no other artist of exceptional prominence was available for a fall concert at Wartburg.

It also became evident in our contract negotiations that none of the 10 groups suggested on last year's preferential ballot, from the Byrds to the Righteous Brothers, were planning a fall engagement in the Midwest.

Ferrante and Teicher, the top choice, were booked solid in their limited schedule, Ray Conniff was in Europe, Petula Clark was staying in England, and Roger Miller was launching a weekly television show.

Thus, within the narrow price range of the depleted Pops Concert treasury (the last two concerts have been financial setbacks) the only group with sufficient national exposure and the potential of an appealing concert was the Young Americans.

The Young Americans, with suggested improvements for the Den were also discussed. Students who have suggestions for improvements in the Den menu should see members of the Den committee. These members are Sandy Meyer and Dennis Harms, sophomores; Sue Bruns, junior; and Ned Vaughn, senior.

A report on the remodeling of the Den and the expenses involved will be issued later.

At Tuesday morning's meeting the proposed new telephone system, or Centrax system, was ex-

Den Discussed

Student Senate met last Monday night and Tuesday morning to discuss moving the TV, financing "The Axe," remodeling the Den, private phones for students and the present policy on Outfly.

A resolution was passed to move the TV back into the TV room, even though the room is being used for classes. The TV will be used only after 12 noon on weekdays.

Financial backing of the last issue of "The Axe" was requested by the co-editors of the publication and awarded by the Senate.

The final date of Outfly would rest with the president of the college or his properly designated representative.

Private Phones, Den Are Discussed

plained and discussed. The system provides for a phone in each residence room on campus at a cost of $25 per student per year.

Total cost of installation of the new system would be about $40,000.

Provides For Privacy

Centrax system provides for privacy while on the phone and greatly reduces the number of people using each phone. Phones on campus serve an average of thirty people with nine trunk-lines running into campus.

Later in the evening Dr. John W. Bachman discussed faculty-administration policy on Fall Outfly. After last spring's Outfly a faculty - administration committee met and decided that fall Outfly of 1966 would not be at the end of Squire Days, but later in October.

At that time, he said, the committee voted to set a date for fall Outfly in conjunction with the Student Senate after the beginning of the fall semester.

The final date of Outfly would rest with the president of the college or his properly designated representative.

Wartburg Shades Penn In Victory Week Climax

By ED ROACH

Fighting for its life, Wartburg maintained a drive in the closing minutes of the conference opener with William Penn to preserve a 19-18 win.

A powerful Knight ground attack propelled the home team to an early 19-0 lead. Following the third kick-off, the Wartburg aggregation recovered the bot bled boot.

Head Coach Lee Bondhus commented, "I thought that the fumble was our chance to break the game wide open, but the illegal procedure penalty on first down meant we had to go 15 yards."

Plays Conservatively

After opening the early bulge, Bondhus decided to play out the rest of the game conservatively. Reflecting this style, Wartburg trimmed its aerial attack to only six passes.

"Maybe we shouldn't have been so conservative in the second half. We could have passed against the six-man line fairly easily," Bondhus remarked.

Defensively, the Knights were unable to contain the inspired Statesman juggernaut from the closing minutes of the first half onward, as they capitalized on two disputed calls and a bad snap.

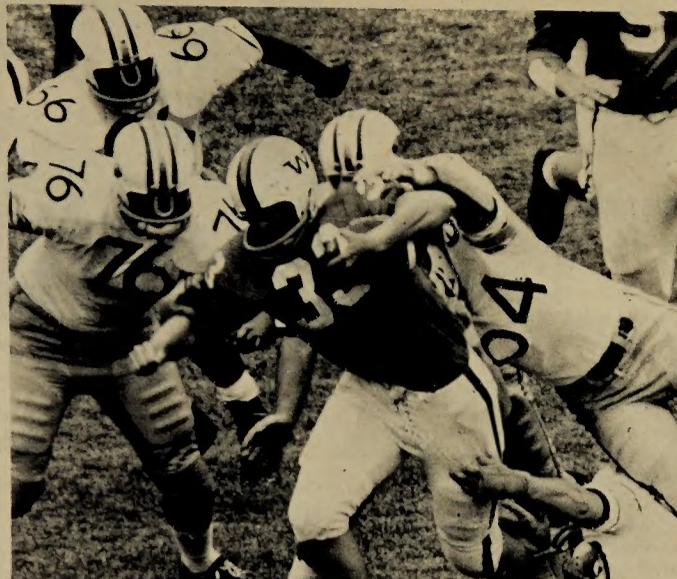

Senior linebacker Lyle Wind and his freshman counterpart, Howard Kay, were injured in the course of the game. These injuries might have been a factor in the defensive letdown.

Leemon Shows Promise

Freshman Jim Leemon showed promise in his first varsity competition at defensive tackle. Senior end Ken Schrankel drew Bondhus' praise for his fine defensive performance.

William Penn provided its linebacking standout in the person of Vince Adamoyurka, who played a major part in the Statesman comeback.

"Our offensive line blocked well," Bondhus said, turning to the brighter side of the game.

Knight workhorse Lance Dreesman, sophomore of Grundy Center, carries two William Penn gridlers with him as he runs for extra yardage.

Halfback Lance Dreesman of Grundy Center was the workhorse for the Knights as he picked up 99 yards in 31 attempts. Fullback Bill Karrow of Appleton, Wis., also performed well in asserting his claim on the position contested with the returning Paul Danielson, sophomore of Scea City.

Quarterback Paul Specht of Monticello showed a great improvement in poise in his third start. Specht lofted a 40-yard pass to sophomore end Jerry Fox for the final Wartburg tally.

"I only called one play and we lost a yard," Bondhus commented of his quarterback's ability.

Knights At Decorah

Today the Knights invade Norse territory as they travel to the traditional blood-letting with Luther at Decorah.

The Norsemen try to confuse the opposition by using 12 different formations. Regardless of the seemingly endless variety of offenses, Luther runs about four types of plays.

"They don't do anything fancy; they just do a few things well," Bondhus remarked.

Luther Beats BV

Luther surprised Buena Vista last week 33-7. The victory wasn't so surprising as the fact that the Norse completed 10 of 15 passes to complement their running attack, which has rolled up 250 yards on the basis of fullback Jim Jefferson's efforts alone.

The defensive squad, averaging about 220 pounds per man, is expected to give up ground grudgingly.

Wartburg has to revamp its play of the ever dangerous end sweeps, which nearly proved disastrous in the Penn game. Bondhus is confident he has found the solution through a careful study of the game films.

Physically, only the services of sophomore Dan Collman are in doubt for the traditional tilt.

Cross-Country Team Wins In William Penn Meet

Wartburg's cross country squad got off to a "running start" last Saturday with a 19-40 victory over William Penn at the Waverly Country Club.

Yesterday the harriers met Simpson College at Indianola.

In the Penn meet Jon Thieman, Steve Jaco and Rod Holt finished in a three-way tie for first place with a time of 16:10.

Jim Kessler of Penn finished fourth at 16:27, Wartburg's Gayle Fick clocked a 16:33 for fifth place, Penn took sixth and seventh places, and Bruce Kettner rounded out Wartburg's scoring with a time of 17:03.

Although the times of Mike Hughes and Roger Stufflebeam were not figured in the scoring, they both finished before Penn's last two scorers.

Coach John Kurtt commented that the times recorded were both opened their seasons with victories.

This morning Wartburg hosted the third annual Waverly High School Meet in which eighteen high school squads participated. The teams were divided into two classes, and each participant ran one and one-half miles.

Gamma-Vollmer Tops In IM's

Gamma - Vollmer intramural football team is leading at the close of the first week of competition.

Wartburg intramural football started Sept. 22 with North Hall's 13-0 victory over Grossmann III. Alpha-Cotta forfeited to Clinton III.

Two days later Grossmann Ground smashed Clinton I, 28-0.

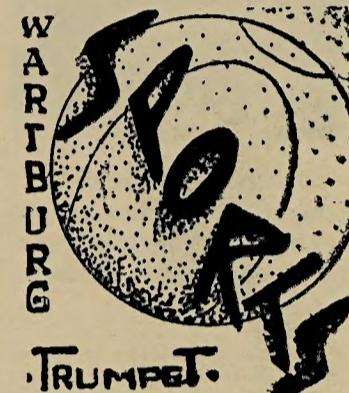

At the same time Gamma-Vollmer pounded Clinton II, 33-0.

On Tuesday Off - campus defeated Clinton Ground 15-8. Ketha-Beta roared over Grossmann I and II, 14-0.

Gamma - Vollmer Wednesday stole the victory from Grossmann III with a score of 12-7. At the same time Alpha-Cotta won over Grossmann Ground by one touchdown. Current standings are as follows:

| Teams            | Won | Lost |

Kaye Young Heads Grapplers; Latest Coaching Staff Addition

By ED ROACH

Each fall brings an influx of new faces to the campus. There are some fat faces, thin faces, sad faces and even funny faces. One group of faces can only be described as determined faces; they are the coaches.

The latest addition to these faces is a hard-driving, young wrestling and assistant football coach, Kaye Young.

Young's natural habitat is the practice field about 4 p.m. If at first you can't see him, direct your attention to the booming voice in the rolling cloud of dust kicked up by his protégés.

After seven years in the high school ranks at Maquoketa, Young decided to move into the college ranks. His coaching duties on the prep scene were much the same as they are here at Wartburg.

Young Adjusts To College

"I'm sure there will be some major adjustments on my part," Young commented on the transition from high school to college coaching.

"In football I've found that the men have a lot more coachability than I found in high school," Young said. "High school students don't have the intelligence I've found at Wartburg."

Young contemplates that he will change several procedures when he starts with the wrestling season. He explained that every coach has his own methods to produce a winning squad.

"What I do won't necessarily mean that it is 'right' nor will it mean that what has been done in the past is 'wrong,'" Young remarked.

Two of Young's prep products are here on the Wartburg campus, senior Terry Tellefson and freshman Tom Turner, who lost only one match in his last two years of high school.

The enemy camp at Luther is well stocked with former Young pupils. Two - time conference champ Mike Kumpf and third-place finisher Ralph Schroeder both claim Young as their mentor.

"I am amazed at the Wartburg football squad's spirit after losing two games," Young mentioned. "Many of them don't need football professionally because they aren't physical education majors, and they certainly aren't paid athletes."

Young has strong feelings about the proper role of athletic aid in college. He said that over a period of four years excessive aid tends to change the values of the students involved.

Not In Favor Of Full Rides

"I'm not in favor of full-rides because I think it is detrimental in its effect on the person involved," Young commented.

The exact amount of aid that should be extended to athletes is still an area that Young is not sure about. He said that he would like to see the Iowa Conference resolve the problem of aid along much the same lines as are being used by Wartburg at the present time.

Football being the center of attention at the present time led ball is fun because a coach can more directly affect the outcome of a game," Young remarked.

In grappling meets the coach can do very little during the actual competition that will have an influence on the outcome, Young said. The coach's responsibility must be to prepare the athlete for everything which might happen on the mat.

"If a wrestler is surprised in a match, it is the coach's responsibility to make sure it doesn't happen again," Young said.

Grappling Coach Kaye Young, latest addition to the Knight coaching staff, instructs the Junior Varsity in the use of the blocking sled in his other capacity as assistant football coach.

him to mention the fact that in spite of the Knights' 63-13 drubbing at the hands of William Jewell, many times championship teams have survived real routs during the time they were developing.

Young was unable to choose between wrestling and football as his first love in the athletic world.

Young Is Ambivalent

"I am more at ease coaching wrestling because I have more confidence and ability, but foot-

"Corrective teaching must be done at the next series of practices."

Young said that at least superficially his wrestlers weren't impressive on paper. Practice for the team as a group won't get started until after the football schedule is completed, although individual weight training will precede the start of practice.

If determined faces are of any value, Young should be able to build a tiger out of the pulp-wood lamb.

So I Said To Myself... Self

Standing Ovation Given

By JOHN MOYERS

Ladies and gentlemen, allow me to introduce the co-captains for this year's Wartburg Knight Football Team. Here they are—the "Stump" (Lynn Altemeier) and the "Hog" (Lyle Wind).

If you have met or seen either of these two in action you will know how well their nicknames fit. Take, for example, last Wednesday night, the JV team was having its first contact when the call was put into Head Coach Bondhus to send over the Hog for a little demonstration of decapitation with the forearm.

The Hog trotted over, stood between the dummies, breathing fire and ready to crack. Everything stopped on the field in order to watch the best mismatch of the season. With a blood-curdling scream, similar to any karate expert about to cripple for life a sheet of plywood, the Hog sprang into action, crashing his opposition with all his might.

The bone - breaking thud that followed opened the eyes and dropped the jaws of 24 men new to Wartburg football. As he trotted back to the Varsity grouping on the main practice field, he was given a standing ovation led by "the Stump," who at the time was partially hidden behind the football lying on the 40-yard line. In his usual manner Hog shook it off by grunting and shouting, "Okay, let's beat Penn."

A hint of the other side of this dynamic duo was given a second ago when referring to Stump's stature. He's the kind of guy who doesn't turn absolutely animal on the field, but if he were at the beach and a 300-pound bully came up and kicked sand in Stump's face, Stump would stand up on his tiptoes and punch the guy right in the kneecap, probably shattering it; then Stumpy would casually walk away.

He's a holler guy, who also gets the job done on defense. He plays corner back and outside line backer, and if you want to find him out there right alongside his old roommate (the Hog), look for the bottom of the pile with the enemy's ball carrier smothered for no gain.

Menage has been on me all fall to give him a good write-up. So Elmer Menage, "This Is Your Life." Elm is the guy who would make Jackie Gleason look like a straight man if Jackie were to come anywhere near the Wartburg College Athletic Department.

Mr. Menage is the jack-of-all-trades and sports, but please, whatever you do, don't ask him about histotyping; this is quite a sore point. Don't do this, especially if you have him for class. If you want the inside story, see Coach Young.

As I was saying, Elm keeps the coaching office in stitches before and after practice, let alone on the field. This is the guy, who, whenever things get dead or tense in practice, puts the spirit and joy back into the hard work. This is the guy to whom every sentence is a straight line for his next takeoff.

Underneath this is a man who gives his all for the team and the school in the best way he knows how. As my old coach, Coach Louscortafachinie would say, "Wise words from mouths of fools do oft themselves belie." So there you are, Elmer Menage.

German Exchange Student Encounters Problems

By KATIE MAAHS

Any exchange student to a foreign country encounters a multitude of problems, from class registration to understanding the various accents spoken to simply adjusting to a different way of life.

Marion Fiebig, from Dusseldorf, Germany, this year's exchange student from the University of Bonn, Germany, has been in America for about two weeks and has already experienced much of what it means to be an exchange student.

She applied at the Office for Foreign Students in Bonn for a scholarship to study in America and was notified that she would be coming to Wartburg College as a student for the next school year.

Wants To Study Geography

Her intention was to study geography at Wartburg, but she didn't realize that so few courses are offered in the geography department.

"I wrote to the Admissions Department asking about geography courses and was told that two courses were being offered. I thought that two courses a semester would be adequate and agreed to come."

"It was only after I got here that I discovered that only one course a semester is offered, and both of the courses I had already had," Marion explained.

Second Major Is English

"My second major is English and, unfortunately, there are only two courses offered that are of any interest to me and my planned course of study."

"I want to teach in the 'Realschule,' which is of approximate equivalence to the American high school, and the only courses I can use are the ones dating after the literature of Shakespeare."

"It is possible for me to attend classes at SCI in Cedar Falls because there are several courses there that would be useful, but the cost and the time needed to commute rule out the possibility. For that money I could study three semesters at home."

Floating Campus Offers Grants

Seven Seas Division of Chapman College recently announced a limited number of $1,200 scholarships available to qualified upper-division students who wish to study for one semester aboard the Division's floating campus.

To qualify, a student must have maintained a 3.0 or higher grade point average, calculated on a 4.0 scale, in previous, transferable, academic work and must be in good upper-division standing at the college-level institution he most recently attended.

These students will participate in an Interdisciplinary Program of Coordinated Studies for the semester at sea.

Students wishing to apply for scholarships should address Dr. Ashleigh Brilliant, Academic Coordinator, Seven Seas Division, Chapman College, Orange, Calif. 92666.

Although Marion has an excellent command of English, she nevertheless has difficulties in understanding some of the students. She speaks with an impeccable British accent, which is quite distinguishable from the Midwest accent prevalent on campus.

"I hope I don't lose my British accent. Before I came here I had to take an oral English examination and, dear me, the professor reprimanded me for my slight American accent on certain words, and I suppose that after I've been here for any length of time, I'll acquire even more of an accent."

"In Germany an American accent isn't always appreciated by English professors, who demand perfect pronunciation and enunciation."

Couldn't Understand Accent

"At first I couldn't understand my roommate, Marilyn Miller, but after two or three days her accent wasn't as difficult for me to understand."

Marion hasn't experienced very much of life on the Wartburg campus, but from what she's seen, she has positive reactions.

"There seems to be more of a feeling of closeness, and I should think it would be much easier to get to know other students here. At the University of Bonn meeting students isn't quite as simple. There it has to be done on your own."

"I also like the way activities are organized for the students. Again, in Germany the student has to find his own entertainment."

"I haven't been to a football game yet, but I'm looking forward to it. We have soccer, but that isn't anything like football. It should be interesting."

The American system of education doesn't have as much academic freedom as the German system does, and Marion is interested in the comparison between the two.

Germans Have More Choice

"We have a lot more freedom in being able to choose what courses we want, and we also have no required attendance in classes, although in some seminars attendance is taken. You see, we have the right to choose for ourselves whether or not we want to take a certain course or whether or not we want to attend."

"Of course, we are held responsible for what we learn or don't learn, and it's entirely up to us. We are the ones who suffer by not going to classes, and any responsible student attends regularly."

"There are students who stay in the university for seven or eight years or more, but that is gradually being done away with now. A student must finish his course of study by a predetermined time."

Will Stay Only One Semester

Marion will probably stay only one semester because of the lack of courses to be taken, but during the Christmas vacation she hopes to be able to travel as much as possible.

An exchange student, no matter what difficulties he encounters, is presented with a unique opportunity, and being able to adjust to this new situation depends a lot on the help and understanding by the host school and student body.

Freshmen Awarded $300 In Aid

Six freshman students at Wartburg College have been awarded Lutheran Youth Leadership grants of $300 each by Lutheran Brotherhood, Minneapolis-based fraternal insurance society.

They are Frances L. Alm, Oak Lawn, Ill., an elementary education major; Nancy J. Edmunds, Blue Island, Ill., an education major; Carolyn C. Heft, Hancock, who is interested in sociology and physical therapy; David J. Kalke, Elkader; Jonathan N. Kennedy, Minneapolis, Minn., and James R. Zentner, Oshkosh, Wis., all of whom plan to study for the ministry.

In addition to the Lutheran Leadership grants to 1966 high school graduates, Lutheran Brotherhood this year is awarding 75 senior college scholarships of $500 each, 23 scholarships of $300 each to junior college students and 12 scholarships of $1500 each to 1966 graduates of Lutheran seminaries.

Trailer Stalls Added

Additional housing space was added to the trailer court this summer, according to Walter Fredrick, Jr., college business manager.

Five trailer stalls were built in the court, raising the number of stalls from 18 to 23. Also included in the new stall area is underground electrical service.

2-Minute Blood Test Helps Diagnose Mono

Infectious mononucleosis -- a common back-to-school disease which in the past has been more difficult to diagnose than to treat, has been under study by Tulane University School of Social Work, New Orleans.

Pharmaceutical research has come up with an important new development -- the "Mono-Test," a simple, inexpensive diagnostic test which quickly, and happily for the patient, reveals the presence of mono in only two minutes.

A theory that "mono" is transmitted by close personal contact has led college students to romantically call it the "kissing disease."

Yet, when it strikes, infectious mononucleosis can be one of the most miserable experiences in a student's life. Recovery can be slow, and every day lost from school can endanger marks and play havoc with education plans.

Now experts have found that it can be an indicator of emotional stress. The Tulane study revealed that high school and college students who were being treated for mono were momentarily depressed at the time they became ill.

In addition, mono is also a problem because of its ability to mimic no fewer than 29 separate maladies.

This year, however, it will be less difficult for school health officials to tell whether a listless student is discouraged about his exams, malingering, seriously ill or another victim of mono.

It can be performed by a doctor in his office using only a glass slide, a blood sample from the patient and the control samples provided in the kit. In addition, this new diagnostic test is inexpensive.

Is Folk Music For The Church?

What is worship? Is our worship service today adequate? Does it communicate the message of the church? Is folk music appropriate in worship? By bringing folk music into worship, are we bringing the world into the Church to make it more popular?

Or are we trying to bring the Church into the world? We bring the best of our talents in offering to the Lord. Is folk music the best of our talents?

Come, and bring your ideas to the Sunday morning discussion immediately after the campus worship service tomorrow in the TV room of the student union.

A.P. Baetke Gives Views

By PAT RUNDHAUG And
JEAN BIERIE

A newcomer to political campaigning, but no less enthusiastic, is the Rev. August P. Baetke of the Sociology Department. He is running on the Democratic ticket for Bremer County State Representative.

"I'm not a good campaigner, But with good helpers I'll pull through," said Baetke.

And, indeed, he does have good helpers. Dr. Herbert Max, Education Department, is his campaign manager, and Duane Schroeder, public information director, is his publicity chairman.

Baetke will also receive valuable help from the campus Young Democrats.

YD'S Give Support

Senior Roger Fuerstenberg, club president, said "The Young Democrats have pledged full support to all Democratic candidates this fall, but with special support given to the election of our own Rev. Baetke."

The club wants to organize a large portion of the student body behind Professor Baetke.

State aid to education is the issue that Baetke is most interested in. He would like to see the legislature appropriate more funds for state colleges and universities. More scholarships should be offered, said Baetke.

He is quite enthusiastic about the vocational technical schools that are being formed.

Technical Schools Needed

"They are a boost to students who can't go to liberal arts colleges. We need technical schools desperately," he said.

Teacher conditions should be improved, according to the Democratic candidate. More fringe benefits for teachers should be added so that Iowa does not lose teachers to other states.

"We need to raise our teacher standards from the bottom up," he said.

Taxes always present a problem to the politician. Baetke wants a more just distribution of taxes.

"Iowans are crying for relief from property taxes," he said.

Beautification is one program that he is heartily in favor of. "It is a pity that more towns aren't more attractive," he added.

Federal funds should be used where they are available, in his opinion.

Although there is a trend in politics toward greater federal control, Baetke does not want to see this control extended.

Avoid Federal Control

"We don't want to be controlled. But the danger is very real, so we should keep our eyes open on the local level," he said.

The candidate has several qualifications for office. Besides having been a Wartburg professor for the past 20 years, he has worked with the Waverly City Council and several summer projects, and was a member of the City Planning Commission for nearly 15 years.

Reasons Are Varied

He has varied reasons for running for the House seat. The filing date for candidates was close, with no one filing for the seat on the Democratic ticket, so he was asked to run.

8 Lands Represented

Eight foreign countries are represented in the student body at Wartburg College this semester.

The following is a list of the 10 students: Jocelyn and Federico Florendo and Abeto Uy from the Philippines; Marion Fleibig and Winfried Wasner from Germany; Emile Zola from Africa; Yohannan Abraham from India; Yasuhiro Nose from Japan; Joshua Bavu from Tanzania; and Jim Wha Soh from Korea.

21 New Members Accepted In Choir

Twenty-one new members have been accepted into membership in the Wartburg Choir, according to Dr. Edwin Liemohn, choir director.

Sopranos are freshmen Phyllis Beggs, Raylene Friederich, Susan Tuff and Cris Fossum; sophomore Janice Moon; and juniors Gayla Shepherd and Sharon Holland.

Freshmen Jan Senft, Kristi Becker, Palma Hansen and Jean Hunt are the new altos.

Semifinalists, Speaker Are Slated For Convocation

Initial student body meeting of the year at Tuesday's convocation will feature an introduction of the 12 semi-finalist queen candidates for Homecoming. Background information and future plans of each nominee will be presented.

Queen candidates are Cappy Carroll, Cathy Cornelius, Gayle Johanningmeier, Kathlene Kriesel, Kathrine Kriesel, Karen LaFortune, Leah Nelson, Rhonda Reinking, Barb Scofield, Marlene Stroh, Sue Syverson and Bonnie Thurn.

Elections for the final five candidates will be held Oct. 11 in Buhr Lounge from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. A preferential vote will be taken.

According to Student Body President Jim Lubben, this student body meeting will be the first in a series to highlight one aspect of student government. This week the spotlight will fall on the Traditions Commission.

Thursday's convocation will again concern government, this
